

I find this fight very interesting..... did we not already have this battle? In the 40's it was radio fighting television invading its "space", In the 70's it was AM fighting FM, in the 90's television fighting the invasion of Direct TV over local programming. This is ridiculous!

I was paying for the service in Direct TV, I should be able to get local programming. Guess what I DID. Today, I pay for XM because I love the music choices and the NO COMMERCIALS, I should be able to get local programming such as traffic and weather.

Why are we again having this debate AGAIN!
